Re: Questions for

Cc:

You asked me to provide questions that I feel were germane to the up-coming interviews with people from with the former Project Office. As an aside, I do not know how you plan to conduct these interviews; however, I assume that they will be one-on-one. While it may be tempting to conduct a group interview, I believe that a more accurate picture will be obtained individually.

Questions for

- (1) What have you incorporated into you operational activity that came from the research program?

If the answer is "none," then ask: Why have you not done so.

- (2) Did you have any concerns that were not addressed by the research program?

If the answer is "yes," then ask: Did you redirect the research effort to address your concern?

- (3) Did you indicated in the operational product when the viewer was told information about the tasking?

- (4) Were you advised about optimal methods of tasking?

Questions for the Viewers:

- (1) Do you feel that your particular skill was properly utilized?

If the answer is "no," then ask: Why not?

- (2) Did you have access to the research results?

- (3) Did you have questions you would have like to have answered by the research?

- (4) Would you like more or less interaction with a research group?

- (5) Do you believe that a viewer should work full-time?
